According to T-1, the budget recommendations of the Israeli Embassy at Washington for the fiscal year April 1, 1950 to March 31, 1951 (the recommendations being made as of November 30, 1949) reflected the following pertinent information:

The total of recommended salaries for thirty-four persons employed as of November 30, 1949, amounted to $135,404, which was substantially the same as the total actual salaries of its employees as of that time. It was observed by source that the thirty-four persons included all diplomatic officials and other employees of the Embassy at Washington, D. C., with the exception of those in the Office of the Military, Naval and Air Attache. Funds for the maintenance of the latter office are provided by the Defense Ministry of the Israeli Government rather than by the Foreign Office.

Recommended expenditures for non-personnel matters totalled $109,400, as compared with $99,732, the total actual cost for such matters as of November 30, 1949. Specific items for which increases were recommended included entertainment and functions ($1,200), maintenance of building ($2,000), equipment and furniture ($1,000), cable, telephone and telegraph ($2,000), publicity and photos ($1,000) and office expenses ($1,000).

According to source, the total cost for proposed additional personnel would amount to $37,200. Recommended additional personnel included a Second or Third Secretary, Cultural Attache, secretary to Cultural Attache, secretary to Assistant Press Attache, Press Clerk, stenographer, two Hebrew clerk-typists, building guard and Assistant to the Economic Counselor.

As further evidence of the Israelis using prominent Americans, including government officials, for their own advantage, T-5 of known reliability furnished the following information concerning the recent prosecution of ADOLF SCHWIMMER and IRVING SCHINDLER for attempting to illegally transport airplanes from the United States to Israel where the latter country was at war with Arab nations. The Israeli Government apparently was fearful that the above prosecution would result in publicity unfavorable to Israel.

On April 1, 1949, [redacted] was advised by his government that it was agreed that the matter relating to "AL SCHWIMMER and other people under indictment" should be taken to the "highest level" in order to "squash it once and forever".

In this connection, the following course of action was suggested to [redacted]

ADMINISTRATIVE

1. Israel President, CHAIM WEIZMANN would discuss the matter with President TRUMAN. It is noted that WEIZMANN arrived in the United States for a visit on April 13, 1949.

b6

2. [redacted] would take the matter up with President TRUMAN and Attorney General TOM CLARK. [redacted] is believed to have been in Israel as of April 1, 1949, since [redacted] was advised by his government that he [redacted] was being taken on a visit to the Air Force Base to "meet the boys".

As has been previously reported, [redacted] of President TRUMAN, has in the past been utilized as an influential contact by [redacted].

3. [redacted] was requested to have [redacted] (believed to be [redacted] of New York City) to "take it up with his friends".

b6

4. [redacted] was further requested to secure the intervention of [redacted] and [redacted] and [redacted].

According to the same source, a "suggested answer" to the above recommendations of the Israeli Government was to the effect that there would be no possibility of official intervention on the part of any one, including that of Israeli President WEIZMANN; that [redacted] failed over a period of four months and further, that [redacted] similarly failed. The government was to be further informed that the matter was being considered by the American Section of the Jewish Agency for Palestine and that efforts were being made to use "all available sources" but that there was no hope of settling the matter outside of juridicial channels.

Apparently prior to transmitting the above suggested reply to Israel, [redacted] was advised by his government on April 5, 1949 that [redacted] intervention would probably not be possible due to other greater problems. [redacted] was further advised that [redacted] was of the opinion that EDDIE JACOBSON could be of no use, but that he [redacted] was prepared to ask JOHNSON's intervention (apparently LOUIS JOHNSON, Secretary of National Defense). [redacted] is undoubtedly identical with [redacted] who is believed to have been in Israel on April 5, 1949.

According to source T-1, from August until November 1949, the Military Attache's office of the Embassy was attempting to make arrangements for the training of Israel Army and civilian personnel in the United States. It was indicated through source that this training program had top priority in Israel and that considerable sums were being expended by the Israel Government for tuition and maintenance of students in the United States. Source advised that the schools involved, many of which are manufacturing organizations, are as follows:

Pratt and Whitney (engine mechanics)
 Hamilton Standard (propellor mechanics)
 (May be the Hamilton Propellor Company, a division of United Aircraft at East Hartford, Conn.)
 Spartan Aeronautical School (Oklahoma)
 Sperry Gyroscope
 Casey Jones Aeronautical School
 Teterboro School of Aeronautics
 Stuart Technical School

As reflected by the New York Times of November 11, 1949, YEHESKEL CAHAR, Inspector General of the Israeli Police Force and AMOS BEN-GURION, son of the Israeli Premier and Chief Training Officer of the Israeli police, were in the United States to study modern police methods and organization of the New York Police Department.
